

INTRODUCING PRIMARY CARE WITHOUT THE WAIT — OR THE WAITING ROOM.

Virtual primary care* helps put your employees on a path to better health.

Your employees stay busy, both on the job and in their daily lives. And, while they may have the best of intentions when it comes to maintaining their health, it may not have been a top priority. After all, doctors' appointments traditionally involve time and travel — usually during the work week.

Good news for you and your employees: Cigna now offers virtual primary care through MDLIVE.® Available in January 2022, this convenient new option makes it easy for your employees to connect to a board-certified primary care provider (PCP) for routine care, plus preventive care with wellness screenings — all on a schedule that works for your employees.

When care is this convenient, your employees may be more likely to address potential health issues before requiring a costly emergency room (ER) visit or hospital stay. That can mean a healthier workforce — even a healthier bottom line. Best of all, access to virtual primary care is available to your employees and their eligible dependents,¹ as part of their health plan benefits.
